

Private Well Water Testing Hours and Locations

If you have a private well that was flooded during the recent flooding event in South Carolina, your well water could be contaminated. To ensure your private well water is safe to drink, you can have it tested for fecal coliform bacteria.

Regular Hours

Water test sample bottles may be picked up at any SC DHEC health or environmental location Monday through Friday, 8:30 a.m. – 5 p.m. To find the location nearest you, visit: www.scdhec.gov/Agency/Locations/

Samples may be returned at these same locations Monday – Thursday 8:30 a.m. – 5 p.m. and Fridays from 8:30 a.m. – noon. Instructions for sample collection will be provided when you pick up your bottle.

Extended Drop-off and Pick-up Locations and Hours

To help serve the need of those impacted by flooding across the state, several DHEC environmental offices will also be open for water test pick-ups and drop-offs on weekends from October 10, 2015 through November 1, 2015.
